

Foreword

On behalf of The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School, United States Army and our friends at the Judge Advocate General's School, United States Air Force and the Naval Justice School, we are pleased to present this special joint service edition of The Army Lawyer. It is fitting that this issue focuses on international and operational law topics, as Judge Advocates from all services serve with distinction in operational theaters around the world. The Global War on Terror has continued to highlight the fact that on today's battlefield, no service fights alone. The United States military is, and must be, a joint team bringing our strengths together to defend our great Nation. The wide range of topics, experiences, and viewpoints expressed in this issue exemplifies the extraordinary value of inter-service coordination. We extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our colleagues on the staffs of our sister service legal publications, the Air Force Law Review, and the Naval Law Review.

-The Editors