

Colonel Eric Young
Judge Advocate, U.S. Army

Colonel Eric Young is currently assigned as Deputy Legal Advisor, National Security Council. He most recently served as the Chief, National Security Law Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, U.S. Army. He has over 25 years of experience as an Army judge advocate, predominately focusing on national security law matters with U.S. and multinational commands, agencies, and organizations, both conventional and special operations. His most recent assignments include Staff Judge Advocate, U.S. European Command; and staff judge advocate / senior legal advisor for both U.S and NATO forces in Afghanistan. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army War College and the U.S. Naval College of Command & Staff.