

Greetings Army JAG Corps Family,

During this season of Thanksgiving, we humbly express our gratitude to each of you and the greater Army JAG Corps family for your dedication and sacrifice to our nation.

The Army asks a lot of us – some of you may be celebrating Thanksgiving this year far from your families, friends, and loved ones – perhaps for the very first time.

Wherever this message finds you, our hope is that you know that your dedication, professionalism, and unwavering commitment to our four constants make us proud to be a part of your team. We are grateful to serve with you in the most consequential practice of law on Earth.

The classic Roman philosopher (and lawyer!), Cicero, said “gratitude is not only the greatest of virtues, but the parent of all others.” Gratitude inspires us to do great things. As we reflect on the power of gratitude, let us also remember to put it into practice in our daily lives, especially during times of celebration and connection with others. By doing so, we can foster a sense of community and appreciation that extends far beyond the holiday season.

Let this Thanksgiving weekend provide you with time to connect with family and friends, and to reach out to your teammates around the world. We thank you for taking such great care of those with whom you serve, their families, and each other. As you do, please take a moment to reflect on what you are grateful for. Count your blessings and make your blessings count.

This We'll Defend!

JOSEPH B. BERGER III
Lieutenant General, USA
The Judge Advocate General

ROBERT A. BORCHERDING
Major General, USA
Deputy Judge Advocate General

WILLIAM J. KOON
Senior Executive Service, USA
Senior Civilian of the Corps

TAMMY E. RICHMOND
Chief Warrant Officer Five, USA
Chief Warrant Officer of the Corps

MICHAEL J. BOSTIC
Command Sergeant Major, USA
Regimental Command Sergeant Major