

The First Report of the FY 2013 United States Army Judge Advocate General (JAG) Accessions Board is complete for United States Army National Guard Applicants. Congratulations to the thirteen individuals who will be offered a Reserve commission with the US Army National Guard Component with assignment to the JAG Corps. You will be contacted with further details; you do not need to contact us.

If you were not selected, please feel free to apply again. The National Guard Bureau will provide the date for the next deadline.
